

Be it so known that the bearers of this charter, by name Aldred the Batalovan, Lyyl of Ivan, Eluiseid of Pitax, and Celebril the Wanderinger, have been charged with the ultimate, eternal defeat of the bandit leader known as the Stag Lord, with only the most sincere repentance before the gods themselves to save his breath from the fate so decreed to all bandits. The bearers of this charter are known to the region: Let the souls of his victims cry out, and let their legacy be known unto them and be his judge. If body of beating heart or otherwise is unable to be provided, then the Swordlords shall send representation to assess the status of this issuance. Be it also known that justice alone is not the only cause of this order, but also the furtherance of stability to the Greenbelt; and that fulfillment of this charter shall yield no small Reward. So witnessed under watchful eye of the Lordship of Restov and authority granted by Lord Aoleski Surtova, current Regent of the Dragonscale Throne.

